BATTLE OF BALLOTS WAGING FURIOUSLY-NO CHANGE AT 51ST

THE CONVENTION IS NOW "REAL WAR"

Breaks Baltimore Precedent When It Completed 48th Ballot For President At 1 O'clock—Much Excitement Prevails In Gotham

LEADERS ARE DEADLOCKED

Little Hope For Leaders—Nomination By Starvation Seems Only Solution—Smith and Anti-McAdoo Forces Determined to Stick

Madison Square Garden, July 3—Having broken the record of the famous Baltimore convention when it completed the 48th ballot for a presidential nominee shortly after 1 o'clock today, the Democratic convention settled down this afternoon for a real war.

William D. McAdoo and Governor Albert E. Smith were in a hopeless deadlock. Through ballot after ballot their total did not vary more than a fraction with McAdoo leading at 488 1-2 votes and Smith second at 321.

Nomination by starvation now appears to be the only solution of the convention. The Smith and other Anti-McAdoo forces are determined simply to starve McAdoo out not only as to votes, but as to delgates. And it almost may come to the point of starvation the whole convention out as to food.

The result of the 49th ballot Smith 320½, McAdoo 462½, J. B. Davis, 63½, Underwood 42, Ralston 56, Glass 25, Robinson 45, Cox 54, Ritchie 16½, Governor Davis 2, Saulsbury 6, Owens 4, Walsh 1. The total votes cast were 1098.

The result of the 51st ballot which was counted at 2:50 gives McAdoo 442½, Smith 328, Davis 67½ and Ralston 63 votes, which is no material change from the opening of the convention this morning. The greatest change is in the vote of McAdoo who has been losing gradually all day as he opened with a vote of 505. Smith has been a slight gainer, with Davis and Ralston each picking up a few votes here and there, however none of them securing votes enough to give them any kind of a lead in the convention.

Madison Square Garden, N. Y., July 3.—With William G. McAdoo making a desperate effort to hold his forces in line, Al Smith was preparing for an ascent to new high voting levels as the Democratic national convention reconvened today to continue balloting for a nominee.

During the night the Smith leaders who knew where their reserve votes can be located left the open spaces of New York to the McAdoo managers. The latter held frequent conferences with the combined objects of seeking new strength and keeping in line at least a majority of those delegates who already have patiently adhered to the cause of McAdoo through 42 ballots.

McAdoo having risen to a fraction over 505 votes at the night session, when several of his deserting delegations returned to the fold ended the night with 503 votes and faced with the likelihood of Oklahoma, Mississippi and Missouri at least leaving him today if he couldn't add to his strength.

The fact of the matter the convention is without any real leadership. Bryan, perhaps has as much as any one but has aroused such bitterness in the Smith camp that about all the Commoner can do now is to keep McAdoo's line intact. Generally speaking, however, the great mass of the delegates are flounder-

MANY FARMERS ARE EXPECTED

Many farmers of Washington county are expected to take advantage of the field day and inspection of the experimental plates, near the Washington County Golf and Country club, which is to be held on Saturday afternoon, July 5, at 1:30 o'clock.

The soil experiments at the plats, which [illegible] fertilizers, have been conducted jointly for several years and are the most valuable project of the kind ever conducted in this county.

Soil on the plats, just north of Washington, is similar to that found in other sections of the county and treatments successful there should prove equally successful in other districts.

Besides the valuable ideas which can be gained from seeing the actual results of the experiments, W. D. Zinn, of Philippi, W. Va., widely known farm specialist, and J. W. White, in charge of soils experiments at Pennsylvania State college, will be present to deliver addresses.

SAFE, SANE FOURTH IS ADMONISHED

Chief of Police James A. Murphy said this morning that he admonishes a safe and sane Fourth. In other words, people are to be allowed a little more leeway than is the usual wont, but "don't get gay."

There is a tendency on the part of some to shoot bullets, and use firearms promiscuously, without restraint to the detriment and to the positive danger of their neighbors. Mr. Murphy advises all the people to observe the holiday in a sane and safe manner, and said that any person found shooting firearms with bullets, will be arrested, and fined. The fine and costs in each case will not be less than $25 and costs.

Asked as to the proposition of shooting blank cartridges in revolvers, the chief of police said that he did not encourage, could not give his sanction to the proposition in that so many who shoot "blanks" ever and anon slip in the "real thing."

In other words, the police will be lenient, yet firm, where evidence of the law is being transgressed. From the conversation of Chief Murphy, the official and his corps of policemen will see to it that the town tomorrow is conducted orderly, but will arrest flagrant trangressors of the law in violation of the borough ordinances.

BILL AT THE PALACE IS ONE TO APPEAL

It is hard to differentiate, to discriminate, between the many good bills (they never have a poor one) at the Palace theatre. It appeals to us that the older the Palace becomes, the better "she gets." After showng to record-breaking crowds during the past three weeks, the Palace had an attractive bill this week, concluding with last night's performance.

This evening sees an entire change of bill, with new faces, catchy music, and meritorious specialties. Manager Harry Barnhart says that with the attaches, all possible will be done to conserve to the pleasure and comfort of the patrons of the house tonight and on the holiday—as well as the balance of the week.

When Forks Were New

The pronged fork, with its four prongs, was not developed until after 1725, and as late as the period of George III the wife of a gentleman in waiting to the king, about 1788, wrote that silver forks were used only by the nobility and foreign ambassadors, and that, since they had but three prongs, the knives were made broad ended, so that one might use them to eat peas and catch fruit juices. It seems that the use of the dessert spoon was unknown at that time.

Pirates Rally To A Win In The Ninth Inning

Bill McKechnie's boys evened up their four game series with the Cardinals by winning the last clash, 3 to 2, yesterday, after an uphill struggle. Again Pittsburgh was outbatted but they braced in the ninth and broke a deadlock, Grimm deciding the contest with a well delivered single after Cuyler had doubled and taken third on Wright's sacrifice.

With Eddie Moore unable to play on account of a badly crippled shoulder, Pie Traynor was back at his old place on the hot corner. Pie was placed sixth in the batting order and Carson Bigbee led off with the stick.

Wilbur Cooper was touched for eight hits, but he was effective most of the way, aside from the seventh inning, when the Cardinals clustered three singles and tied up the combat. Jess Haines pitched for St. Louis and allowed seven blows, three of which constituted the victorious rally in the final frame.

FARMERS WARNED OF HARM DONE BY IRRIGATION

Fort Collins, Colo., July 3.—Belief that the millions of dollars spent on irrigation of arid lands of the West may accomplish no permanent good unless drastic measures are taken to enforce proper methods of distribution of water has been expressed by Dr. Charles A. Lory, president of Colorado Agricultural college.

"In some of the older irrigation districts," Dr. Lory said, "water has drained the natural salts from the soil, profoundly affecting its character. It also has caused an increase in a bacterial flora which takes nitrogen from the air, giving an excess to the ground."

Nitrogen, Dr. Lory explained in proper quantites is beneficial to soil, but applied in excess, may sterilize it:

No satisfactory means of combatting this soil sterilization through excessive and improper irrigation has been found, Dr. Lory said. He pointed out that hundreds of thousands of acres of reclaimed lands throughout the West have actually deteriorated from year to year and will eventually become worthless under present care.

Much of the Greeley potato region has become unfit for this crop, due to long years of irrigation, Dr. Lory said, and Rocky Ford cantaloupes, famous throughout the country for their quality, are being infested with disease, due to over-irrigation, Lory alleged.

Figures presented by Dr. Lory warned farmers that unless they find some means of correcting present irrigation procedure, much of the plains region of Colorado and other western states may within a few generations again be the stamping ground of buffalo, antelope, coyotes and rattlesnakes, making their homes on deserted farm property.

MASTER FINDS ALLEGATIONS ARE FULLY ESTABLISHED

A decree in divorce is recommended in a report just filed by the master in the suit of W P. Conner, of Monongahela, against Mary alias Marie Conner. The master finds that, notwithstanding denials made by the respondent, that the respondent has been guilty of adultery and that the allegations of the libellant have been fully established.

Mr. and Mrs. Conner have been having domestic troubles for a long time. Their differences have been aired before in court, in efforts on the part of the respondent to require support of him. In these hearings it came out that the wife was very negligent about her home, was away frequently and for several days and that she was guilty of conduct that cast suspicion upon her character.

Mr. Conner is a world war veteran with a good record and there were allegations that during his time in the service his wife was not faithful to him.

FAST BOUTS ARE PROMISED IN JOHNSTOWN ARENA

Plans are shaping nicely for the open-air boxing show to be held at Johnstown tomorrow afternoon by the Crystal Beach Athletic Association of which Cooney Martin is promoter. The show will be held at a huge arena recently erected on a site adjoining Crystal Beach and a capacity crowd is expected to attend. The stadium will hold 7,500 persons.

Martin has one of the best balanced cards ever presented there and has booked some classy scrappers for the first show in the new arena. Dick Conlon of Altoona and Jack Barry of Pittsburgh, two of the leading men of their class in Central and Western Pennsylvania, are in the headliners in a 10-round contest. This bout was in popular demand after each had been awarded a decision over Bernie Conway at Johnstown, last winter.

Young Sailor of Charleroi will make his first appearance before a Johnstown crowd in the semi-windup when he faces the tough and aggressive Jimmy O'Hara of Johnstown. Teddy Welsh of McKeesport and Patsy Gallagher of Pittsburgh will meet in the second bout. Billy Armstead of Pittsburgh tackles Jimmy Goines, of Johnstown in the opening setto.

ALL OUT OF SORTS?

So Was This Charleroi Woman Who Tells Her Experience.

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This Charleroi case is one of many:

Mrs. Olin Harper, 224 Washington Ave., says: "I was taken with an attack through the small of my back became so lame I couldn't do much of anything. When I stooped, sharp pains darted throuugh the small of my back and I felt miserable. Dizziness came on when I made a quick move. Doan's Pills fixed me up in fine shape and I know my cure is permanent."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills — the same that Mrs. Harper had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

BILIOUS?

then here is good advice

Stop taking harsh purgatives like Salts and Calomel at once; and take a dose of purely vegetable compound that contains just what your doctor would advise. These little tablets act directly on the kidneys and liver, but do not cause purging, only a gentle movement of the bowels being apparent. But oh, what a difference in your feelings by the morning; not only do you feel better, but you look better and think clearly.

Simply ask your druggist for a 35c box of Lebanon Herb Tablets and take tonight as directions advise. Every druggist will refund the purchase price if they fail to satisfy you, so try them tonight at our expense. Wagner's Drug Store can supply you.

Story Tangle Has to Be Knotted in Hurry

If it had not been for the short story and its parallels in the other arts, there could be no question about the merits of this sort of orderly arrangement of facts, says Archibald MacLeis in the North American Review. But the short story made popular an entirely different model of display. The art of the short-story writer consisted in laying out something called the plot, which was a sort of intricate human tangle, and then magically unpulling the knot just before it choked the persons of the tale. The trick was to get the knot tied before any one saw how easily it could be undone. And that required a great many rapid gestures and a considerable amount of distracting noise in the first few sentences. So you had stories beginning with the echoes of a scream which had just been stifled to the left of the first paragraph. "My God!" gasped pretty little Nausicaa Nevers of Pride's Crossing, sitting up quite straight in her little bed. Plump—you're in it. What on earth made pretty little Nausicaa Nevers curse? And before you find out, or before you discover that you never will find out, the seeming tangle has been neatly caught and your fingers are working anxiously at the threads. Or you have stories which begin with a deliberate and brutal assault upon your intelligence. [illegible] a midnight bench in Madison square at the age of three-and-twenty." Well—really—you protest. And then you are in over your head.

No Immediate Danger of Sun Becoming Old

The age of the sun has been fixed at something between 2,000,000,000 and 3,000,000,000 years, Prof. Walter Nernst, after researches, announced at a meeting in Berlin, says the Detroit News. The estimates are based in part on the rate of decomposition of radioactive elements and in part on deductions from Einstein's theory of relativity concerning the relation between mass and energy.

Early estimates set the age of the sun as low as 10,000,000 years, but geologists showed this was too short to allow for the erosion and other changes observed in the crust of the earth since it became solid. The radioactive decomposition of uranium to lead is a more accurate cosmic clock, and this indicates that the solid crust of the earth has existed for at least one and one-half billion years. According to Nernst the sun, while getting past middle age, is still good for 400,000,000 years, after which a crust will form on its surface and life such as we know it will cease upon the earth.

Dogs in Warfare

Egyptian paintings of 3,000 years ago depict the greyhound as not dissimilar to the hound of later years. The mosaics and sculptures of the Greeks and Romans show the dogs of antiquity to have been noble-looking animals. That they were also fierce would appear probable from a mosaic unearthed in ancient Pompeii, which shows a snarling watch dog in spiked collar, fastened with a chain. On the block of pavement appeared the familiar words "Cave canem." The Gauls made use of trained dogs in war. So did the Spaniards, in their early encounters with the Indians of the Americas.

Just Give It Time

A woman of artistic pretensions invited an expert to view an escritoire which she had picked up at rather a high figure.

"An antique," she explained.

He responded politely to the call and went through all the motions of making a scientific examination, viewing the inlay, the varnish and the alleged wormholes through a magnifying glass. Then he shook his head and told her he feared she had been misled, that it was a fine bit of furniture, but not an antique.

The collector took it calmly enough. "No matter," she said cheerfully, "it will be before I finish the payments on it."—Collier's.

Conscientious Edna

A motorist speeding through a country neighborhood killed a hen. He stopped and pressed a $2 bill into the hand of little Edna who was on her way to neighbor Reed's. Edna ran and told her mamma of her good fortune.

"Well," said her thrifty mother, "put the money in your bank and I will cut the hen's head off so we can eat her."

"Perhaps, mamma," said Edna thoughtfully, "as long as we have the money we had better let the Reeds eat the hen. It was their hen."—Boston Transcript.

Old-Time Frumenty

Few people have frumenty offered them as food in these modern days, although there was a time when it was served on tables in many lands and was popular.

It was made by boiling whole wheat hulled in water until it was soft, then draining, adding milk, sweetening and nutmeg flavor, or to make what was known as Somersetshire frumenty, there were added currants, raisins and eggs.

Food specialists would be glad to see it brought back for the distinct advantage of getting the whole wheat grain for food.—Ohio State Journal.

OUR HERITAGE.

Tomorrow, the Nation's greatest holiday, with one exception, should cause us to reflect on the heritage which is ours, bought by the blood and heroism, the patriotism of heroic souls, long since passed into oblivion.

The United States today is largely what our forefathers made it. They moulded its future, and we of today are perpetuating their work. Let us then highly resolve to carry on the work which they promulgated.

Those men at Independence hall one hundred and forty-eight years ago had one primeval thought in mind, and that was "Liberty." Patrick Henry said, "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death." These men declared that we of America were a free and independent nation, and we have been carrying out te principles which they then enunciated through the years.

We do enjoy the greatest freedom, and the United States of America is the greates country on the face of the globe; but still there are conditions which need remedial agencies. At the present time the country, due to the reconstruction movement following the World war, is more or less in a state of chaos. In the olden days, people were more on an equality, and the nation was one of the common brotherhood; today there are forces at work which threaten to destroy the very fabric on which the foundations of the government are laid. There are insiduous forces at work that threaten to destroy the liberty that we enjoy as a heritage from our forefathers, and to perpetuate our heritage, it is the time for all patriotic and liberty-loving souls to amalgamate for the common good of all humankind, and save our country from foes without and foes within.

MAUGHAN'S FEAT

A new and notable cross-continent airpane record has been made. On June23 Lieutenant Maughan flew from New York, to Long Island, to San Francisco between dawn and dusk. The actual time and distance would seem to be uncertainly unknown, for one account reports 2,670 miles in 21 hours and 48 minutes, while another reports 2,850 miles in 18 and a half hours at the average speed of 156.20 miles an hour. Whatever the exact figures, the achievement was unquestionably marvelous. Who would have believed it possible twenty years, ten years, even one year ago? Who would have predicted that by July 1924, San Francisco could be reached by letter from New York in about 24 hours?

It has been well said that Lieutenant Maughan is himself as wonderful a machine as the special Curtiss plane which he piloted. From dawn to dusk his brain was ever alert, the tension of his nervous forces could never be relaxed, not for a moment could he yield to fatigue as he sped over mountain and plain although the roar of his motor beat unceasingly upon his ear drums. How could any man endure such a strain? No wonder that Maughan, after keying himself to such effort and keeping an invincibly determined grip and watch upon himself as well as upon his work throughout the long hours from dawn to dusk, was at first unable to speak when he landed at his journey's end and knew that glory had been won. If there have been doubts, the country is convinced now that the Army Air Service is developing the art and producing wonderful birdmen.

All Were Rotten

The foreman of a Lancashire mill instructed one of the hands to test the incandescent gas mantles in the weaving sheds and find out how many required renewing. Eventually he returned to report that 97 new mantles were required. "What?" exclaimed the foreman. "Why, we've only got 97 lights altogether." "Well, I tried 'em all," said the lad; "and every one I squeezed was rotten and fell to bits."

Just an Empty

Six-year-old Freddy, bred in the city, was on his first visit to his uncle's farm. At breakfast he heard that his uncle's Jersey cow had been stolen during the night. "That's a good joke on the man who stole her," was Freddy's comment. "Why?" asked his uncle. "Why, just before supper last night the hired man took all the milk out of her."—Everybody's Magazine.

Migration of Rats

The date of introduction of the rat into America is very doubtful, but the black or Alexandrine rat seems to have come first and was gradually driven westward by the larger rodents. The black rat found its way to Europe about the beginning of the fourteenth century, but the brown rat [illegible] about 1728.

THIS UNION MAKES NON-STRIKE RECORD

London, July 3.—The world's non-strike championship is claimed by the National Union of Boot and Shoe Operatives of England.

This union has a record of twenty-nine years without a strike—and it challenges any other labor union in any country to show an equal or better performance.

T. F. Richards, President of the Union, also claims that it is the only organization in the world that maintains, with its employers, a guarantee fund against strikes.

This fund amounts to $5,000 and is raised by mutual assessments upon the workers and employees. The agreement is that should a strike ever occur the matter will be referred to mutually appointed tribunal to decide which side is at fault, and then forfeit from that side's deposit enough money to compensate the other side for all losses it sustained because of the strike.

Artificial Aids to Sight Long in Use

The single glass or reading glass was in common use long before spectacles were known.

In the Fourteenth century spectacles, though fairly common, were articles of some cost, and frequently formed the subject of bequests in wills. They were manufactured largely in Italy, Holland and Bavaria and from the beryl sometimes used in place of glass the Germans derived their "brille."

A Polish novelist, Sienkiewicz, gives it on authority that the Emperor Nero was in the habit of using eyeglasses, and in the film, "Quo Vadis," Nero is seen using his glass as a lorgnette.

There seems no definitely established fact to prove whether this glass was a monocle or a double glass mounted on a long decorative handle.

ing around helplessly praying that something will show up soon upon which to stand. There is a tight little group of Smith fans and another tight little group inspired with the "cause of McAdoo." Outside these two fighting lines which may well stick to the bitter end, the field of milling forces is chaotic.

It is on the latter field that the eyes of Tom Taggart of Indiana are now concentrated. For nine days Taggart has sat in his seat in the Indiana section, said nothing and done nothing, but during the last hour of last night's session Taggart left his seat and began to move around the floor.

Because of this McAdoo supporters were desperately appealing to their delegation chairmen in night conferences to persuade Senator Joseph Robinson and Senator Carter Glass to let him have the Arkansas and Virginia votes.

Bernard M. Baruch and Thomas L. Chadburne, both in McAdoo's suite at the Madison Square Hotel, off the door step of the convention hall and in Baruch's private suite at the Prince George Hotel, were acting as intermediates for the Californian in the campaign for additional votes.

Senator Robinson, Senator Glass, and Senator Swanson of Virginia, were parties at one time or another to these conferences. Robinson has picked up some little strength outside the 18 votes in his own delegation and with Oklahoma serving notice it would go to Robinson today, McAdoo leaders were trying to thwart desertions by having an early show of strength today.

It is only the personal persuasive ability of McAdoo, Bryan and a handful of McAdoo's friends entirely outside the convention that is responsible for the sustained strength of the McAdoo vote. It has swung about a bit but has shown remarkable recuperative powers.

His biggest immediate danger lies in the feeling among a number of restless delegations that he has reached the peak of his strength and there is extreme bitterness in some delggations between individual delegates and their respective chairmen, at insistence of the latter, upon remaining with McAdoo. Examples of these are Oklahoma and Missouri where, if they continued to vote with McAdoo on the first ballot today certain of their delegates had served notice they would demand a poll of the delegations.

The Smith leaders believe McAdoo may be able to rustle some 40 or 50 more votes and their plan today was to lay back a few ballots and see what happened, then drag out the reserves and see to what heights they lead their candidate. Smith is believed to have about 100 reserve votes scattered through different delegations although some of this strength has suffered as a result of the klan issue fight. For example, Ed Moore of Ohio had planned to turn quite a few votes to Smith at the proper time but Moore succeeded in getting himself unpopular with his own delegation by making its members stand and be counted on the klan issue that Smith leaders are afraid they will get little if anything out of that state.
